HELP YOUR CHILD master the clock with EasyRead Time Teacher.

Telling the time is an essential life skill which all children need to learn, but many can find difficult. If you've ever tried explaining to your child that when the big hand points to one it means five and two means ten, you'll know what we mean - it's so confusing! Children learn to tell the time in primary school from age five, but if they don't master it then it can impact their life for years.

Help your child practise at home with these specially designed watches and clocks from EasyRead Time Teacher. They come with a simple method to learn to tell the time:

Step 1: Read the number at the end of the long hand

Step 2: Say which side the long hand is pointing to ('minutes to' or 'minutes past')

Step 3: Read the number at the end of the short hand.

And it would end up something like this: 'Eight...minutes to...two'. It's so simple!

The wall clocks and alarm clocks are silent - so no annoying ticking - and there's a choice of two great colour schemes.

The wristwatches have a big clear face the same as the clocks, so children can practise their new skill everywhere!
